

CORPORATION TAX PROMPTLY ADOPTED

Senate Votes Down Amendments to Measure.

TABACCO TAX IS ATTACKED

Despite Pleadings of Democrats, Finance Committee's Schedule Is Adopted with Bradley Amendment. Bailey Warns Republicans of Overconfidence in Pleading.

The Senate promptly adopted the corporation tax section of the tariff bill yesterday morning. Amendments offered by Senators Bacon, Daniel, Newlands, and Gore, modifying the amendment, were all tabled on motion of Senator Aldrich. Following the final disposition of the corporation tax, including the amendment of Senator Clapp, taxing incorporated holding companies, the Senate took up and disposed of section seven, which authorizes the imposition of retaliatory duties.

Then Mr. Aldrich asked that the tobacco amendments be laid before the Senate.

By a vote of 44 to 34 the Senate tabled an amendment introduced by Senator Clay, of Georgia, putting a stamp tax on stock market transactions. Senator Clay was absent and the amendment was offered by his colleague, Senator Bacon. Mr. Aldrich in moving to table the amendment declared that it was an important matter, and had not received the consideration by the Senate or a committee.

Senator Bacon denied this, saying that the amendment was a literal copy of the war revenue act of 1898.

In his haste to dispose of the matter Senator Aldrich offered Mr. Bacon, and the Georgia Senator arraigned the chairman of the Finance Committee.

Aldrich's Lordly Aids.

"There are Senators here who by their relation to the majority assume certain rights and privileges above other Senators here," said Mr. Bacon. "I resent that assumption and I serve notice on the Senator from Rhode Island that while I continue a member of this body, I will not submit to his lordly airs."

Mr. Aldrich did not reply. When the roll call was had on the amendment several Republicans voted with the Democrats in favor of the Clay amendment, as follows:

Bristow, Brown, Burkett, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Dilliver, Jones, La Follette, Nelson, and Piles.

Sensors McHenry and Foster, Democrats, of Louisiana, voted with Senator Aldrich to table.

The amendment proposed a stamp tax of 10 cents on every transfer of stock, grain, or provisions of the value of $100 in the form of a "bucket shop" transaction and levying a license tax of $500 a year.

Free Hides Again Lost.

Senator Stone offered an amendment putting hides, leather, and all products of both on the free list. It was tabled by vote of 45 to 28.

Senator Simmons concluded his speech in opposition to the tobacco tax shortly after noon, and then Senator Bailey took the floor. He condemned the Republicans for refusing to impose a tax on tea that would have yielded $9,000,000 worth of revenue and then voting to tax tobacco.

"Tea is an article that not one man in ten uses, and he is abundantly able to pay the tax," said Mr. Bailey. "Tobacco is the comfort of nine persons out of ten, and they are the very poor."

The Senator said the tax on snuff was "a cruel outrage." He painted a pathetic picture of granny in the chimney corner plucking snuff, but he added, "I would not do it, but so long as she did she was entitled to just as much consideration from the tax-gatherers as the society belle who smokes cigarettes. Of the two admitted evils, Senator from Texas said he preferred to see women pinch snuff rather than smoke cigarettes, and the women in the galleries tittered."

Warned of Overconfidence.

For the snuff outrage and similar shortcomings in legislation, Mr. Bailey, with great dramatic effect, declared that the people would "rise up in their righteous wrath and drive the Republican party from power." He said they would probably have done so before, but doubtless the Democrats had been so confident, he said, that they had trusted the Democratic party. The Republican Senators smiled at this, and Mr. Bailey warned them not to feel overconfident, for the people may yet conclude that "it is better to be governed by fools than by rogues."

Then Mr. Bailey cleared up the mystery connected with his remarkable speech. Observing that Senator Daniel, of Virginia, had entered the Senate chamber with a roll of manuscript, Mr. Bailey declared that he had nothing more to say now than that Mr. Daniel had arrived to take the floor. So the speech of the Senator from Texas defending "granny's snuff" turned out to be of the stuff which Private John Allen once used to designate a certain speech in the House.

"What did you think of it," a colleague asked Mr. Allen.

"Excellent," replied Mr. Allen. "Used to fill in with."

Daniel Attacks Tobacco Tax.

Senator Daniel took the floor and made a savage attack on the proposed tobacco taxes.

After the conclusion of Senator Daniel's speech Senators Beveridge and Bailey addressed the Senate briefly.

A vote was then taken on Senator Daniel's amendment making the tax 6 cents a pound on tobacco instead of 8 cents, as proposed by the committee. The amendment was defeated by a strict party vote, 24 yeas to 64 nays. Then the committee amendment was adopted, 62 yeas to 25 nays. Senator Bradley then offered an amendment removing the tax from leaf tobacco.

Senator Aldrich accepted the Bradley amendment.

The Senate then took up the amendment of Senator Curtis, putting a counter valuing duty on crude oil.

COLLIER NERO STUCK FAST.

Eight Ships and Tugs Fail to Move.

Newport, R. I., July 8.—In the opinion of John Arbuckle, after making an inspection with his assistants of the stranded Collier Nero to-day, the boat is in just as bad a situation as the cruiser Yankee was on Hon and Chickens Reef. He informed the Secretary of the Navy to this effect to-night, also that he had had eight ships and tugs haul on the stranded boat, but was unable to move her.

Mr. Arbuckle is, however, confident of saving the collier, providing he is permitted to use the same methods as were employed on the cruiser Yankee.

Largest Morning Circulation.

TARIFF PASSED.

Continued from Page One.

of Minnesota will be marching in triumph at the head of the Republican column." In concluding the work of disposing of the tariff measure, the Senate adopted the corporation tax amendment in its perfected form, including the provision offered by Senator Clapp making the net incomes of incorporated holding companies liable to the 2 per cent tax. An amendment of Senator Curtis, of Kansas, which was acceptable to the independent oil producers, was adopted. It provided that whenever a country assessed crude oil imported from the United States, crude oil from that country when imported into the United States should pay a rate of one-half the duty imposed by the foreign country.

An amendment of Senator Dixon containing the provisions of the House inheritance tax section was voted down. The Senate then adopted the amendments of the Finance Committee increasing the taxes on cigarettes and smoking tobacco. An amendment of Senator Cummins to put trust-made articles on the free list was voted down.

Senator Overman offered his amendment, imposing a head tax of $10 upon aliens entering the United States. Mr. Overman said if he could not obtain the adoption of his amendment, he preferred that it should be sent to the Committee on Immigration, rather than being placed on the table.

Mr. Aldrich agreed that the measure should be referred to the Immigration Committee. He then introduced Senator Gore presented a similar amendment, designed to prohibit immigration by imposing an educational test and a head tax of $300. This amendment was tabled.

Endeavored to Amend.

Senator Buckley endeavored to amend the corporation tax provision so as to deduct from the gross earnings of insurance companies the amount paid to policy holders, but Mr. Aldrich thwarted his effort by making the point of order that the entire corporation tax provision had been adopted by the Senate, and was not open to further amendments.

Vice President Sherman, the presiding officer, overruled Mr. Aldrich, holding that the provision was subject to amendment after a motion to reconsider had been carried. Mr. Aldrich then made the further point of order that under the rules Mr. Buckley could not move to reconsider the amendment because the fact that he had voted against its adoption on the first vote. The point was sustained by the presiding officer.

By this time it was about 7:30 o'clock, and the Senate adjourned.

Mr. La Follette's speech was the feature of the closing hours of the session. He presented a bill to create a nonpartisan tariff commission composed of nine members. In commencing his speech he said he would postpone his remarks upon the tariff and concentrate on the conferees had presented their report to the Senate.

An amendment authorizing the President to make reductions in commodities imported from certain countries which are willing to make reciprocal reductions on various articles of import was rejected. Senator La Follette offered another amendment as a substitute for the system of valuation, and the conferees which provided that the export price should be the basis of valuation. The system of valuation in the measure, he said, was impracticable, and would have the effect of increasing the ad valorem rates of duty. His amendment was voted down without a roll call.

A Lively Colloquy.

There was a lively colloquy between Mr. La Follette and Mr. Hale during the discussion of the tariff commission proposed in Mr. La Follette's amendment. Mr. La Follette insisted that the provision of the tariff bill providing for several experts was a snare, and pointed out that additional legislation, such as a considerable appropriation, was necessary before it would be effective.

"I can assure the Senator from Wisconsin," Mr. Aldrich said, "that the necessary appropriations will be made."

Sensors Beveridge and La Follette, both of whom are advocates of a tariff commission, expressed their satisfaction at this assurance.

Continuing his speech, Mr. La Follette said he regarded a tariff commission as of greater importance to the welfare of the country than the Interstate Commerce Commission. If the tariff were revised with full and complete data as to the cost of production in this country and abroad, the business interests of the country would not fear a revision of the tariff, and there would be no cause for continued agitation. The trouble with the present revision, he said, was that it was made without proper consideration of the facts.

"I do not understand that the report of the Finance Committee providing tariff experts," Senator Hale interrupted, "constitutes a tariff commission in any sense. A tariff commission would only keep the country agitated. If I believed the committee amendment provided anything more than experts I would not vote for it. I think the fundamental power of tariff revision is with Congress."

Hale Is Corrected.

"The Senator from Maine," Mr. La Follette replied, "is, I believe, chairman of the Appropriations Committee. We can now guess what kind of an appropriation he will be willing to grant. The Senator from Maine misunderstood my amendment. I do not intend to confer upon the tariff commission the authority to make rates, but merely to advise Congress regarding the proper rates of duty to impose."

No member of the Finance Committee, from Chairman Aldrich down to the newest member, Mr. La Follette said, had been able to furnish the Senate with accurate information as to the cost of production of the various articles in this and in the competing countries. No one had been able to do this, and the tariff laws as they stood were a burden on the Congress. The law, he declared, should not go into effect immediately upon its passage, but should become operative at some date in the future.

If this procedure had been followed, he asserted, there would have been no reason for business unrest, or for rail-roading the tariff law through Congress without full deliberation. The protectionists he added, who were in control of both Houses of Congress, seemed to believe that the tariff should be revised only when the people demand a revision. Changed business or industrial conditions, he said, were not taken into consideration.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

Those Senators who failed to vote, owing to the absence of their pairs or for other reasons, were: Senators Burton, Clarke, of Arkansas, Lodge, Root, Tillman, Smith, of Michigan, and Richardson.

HOUSE WILL MEET TO-DAY.

Large Number of Representatives Return to Duty in Washington.

For the first time in many weeks a quorum confronted Speaker Cannon when the House was called to order yesterday. Word was sent out last week by Republican "Whip" Dwight that the Senate was about to finish its labors on the tariff bill, and members were urged to be in their seats when the House met. Democrats were also summoned back to Washington, and when the Speaker's gavel fell at noon nearly every seat was occupied.

Since the House met last Monday Representative Cushman, of Washington, had passed away, and a reference was made to his death in the prayer of Chaplain Couden. The House was in session but a few moments, adjournment being taken out of respect to the memory of Mr. Cushman.

On motion of Representative Dabell, of Pennsylvania, a resolution was adopted providing that the House until further notice should adjourn at 12 o'clock. When the tariff bill was passed in April an order was entered providing for meetings of the House Mondays and Thursdays. The expectation is that the measure will be returned by the Senate to-morrow, and there will be no delay in the House. Immediately upon the receipt of the measure a rule will be reported providing that the Senate amendments be disagreed to and the bill sent to conference.

A bill was introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Palmer, of Pennsylvania, amending the national bank act so as to permit national banks to make loans on real estate.

Goos on Fishing Tour.

Charles J. Bell, president of the American Security and Trust Company, will leave July 21 for Lake Nipigon, near Lake Superior, on a fishing trip. Mr. Bell, in speaking of the rod and reel, revealed the enthusiasm of a true angler. Before returning to his duties, he will make an extended tour over the Canadian Pacific.

Charles E. Howe, cashier